IMPORTANT NOTICE

Public Act 171, 67th Congress, approved March 20, 1922, which includes the appropriation for distribution of public documents to depository libraries, provides "That no part of this sum shall be used to supply to depository libraries any documents, books, or other printed matter not requested by such libraries."

In order to enable libraries to make the selection required, this list has been prepared, arranged alphabetically by Executive Departments (or independent establishments), and by bureaus and series thereunder, with a brief description of the character of the publications where necessary. A similar opportunity to make selection of publications not covered by this list will be given to libraries from time to time in the future, as necessity may arise.

As the new law makes the selective plan for depository libraries mandatory rather than a privilege, it is necessary that this list be promptly checked and returned to the Superintendent of Documents, in order that libraries may receive their depository shipments.

INSTRUCTIONS

Check in lower right-hand corner of each block if you wish to receive copies of the publications therein described, and fill in the information called for below.

A1.1: AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT

Annual reports

Administrative report of Secretary, with reports of bureau chiefs.

A1.14²: AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT

Department circulars

Contain a wide variety of information, frequently in the form of brief reports, often illustrated, covering the results of scientific investigations. These may be either information requiring immediate distribution to the public, or reports referring to only one phase of a problem. Sometimes the Department circulars are followed by more exhaustive Department bulletins on the same subjects.

Bulletins

Present in detail results of investigations made by the various bureaus of the Department, dealing with crops, farm animals, soils, insect pests, and other phases of scientific agriculture. Range from semipopular discussions to highly technical treatises. Usually contain text illustrations, frequently also plates.

A1.8: AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT

[Department] reports

An old and important series, now issued infrequently. Usually contain results of special investigations of the Department.

Circulars, Office of Secretary

Earlier issues of this series cover a variety of subjects, but since 1919 they have usually been confined to regulations and instructions of the Secretary relative to work not covered by the regular Service and regulatory announcements, and to official statements concerning Department policies and administration. Circular material of greater popular interest is included in the series known as Department circulars.

Farmers' bulletins

An extensive and very popular series of bulletins covering a wide range of agricultural and household subjects. Written in concise and nontechnical language, and designed to offer definite, practical aid in the solution of everyday problems of farm life. Usually attractively illustrated.
